Sight-Singing with Words for Three-Part Chorus

(available in SSA, SAB, TTB and TBB)

NEW!

Liberate your choir from dependence on solfège and help them to move on to this next level of musicianship: SIGHT-SINGING WITH WORDS. This series is entitled National Treasures because it draws its texts from various Americana—poets: Frost, Dickinson, Sandburg, Longfellow, Thoreau, Emerson, Whitman, and Poe; historical figures: Jefferson, Franklin, Lincoln, Roosevelt, Wilson; and national documents, such as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

In the SAB version, the bass part is written in the Cambiata range, so it can be sung by tenors, baritones, and boys with changing voices. In the SSA, TTB, and TBB arrangements, all voices remain in moderate ranges throughout.

These compositions are short enough to be used as warmup exercises, yet musically satisfying and textually meaningful. Some groups will be able to sing them with words first time through. Others may require one or two times through with syllables before switching to the lyrics.

PLEASE NOTE: This series is not a substitute for systematic solfège training. It assumes a reasonable ability in solfège as a prerequisite. Completion of any of our other sight-singing series is more than adequate preparation.
